TRYING JONES FOR LYNCHING JOHNSON

Sheriff Testifies That He Saw Prisoner, Undisguised, Mingling With Mob.

MANY OTHERS INDICTED

Sixteen Others Will Face Jury When Jones's Case Is Disposed Of.

MONROE, N. C., July 15.—The trial of John Jones for lynching John V. Johnson, in Anson county, a year ago, was begun in the Superior Court to-day before Judge Peebles. There are seventeen persons indicted for the crime, but the case of Jones was selected by the solicitor, as it is understood to be the plan to try each of the prisoners separately.

At the opening of the trial a motion to "quash the indictment," and a plea in abatement were overruled. A jury was obtained in two hours, although it was expected that it would take much longer.

Sheriff Bogan, of Anson county, was the principal witness for the State. His examination in chief was finished before the court adjourned.

Sheriff Bogan, who is also jailer for

Anson county, positively identified the prisoner as one of the men who broke in the jail and took the prisoner out and hanged him. After telling about a mob forcing the door of the jail and entering it, securing the keeper and taking the prisoner from the cell, the witness was asked:

"Did you recognize any one in the crowd?"

"Yes, sir, I saw John Jones."

The court: "Tell what you saw Jones do."

"He was standing in the yard with a gun in his hands, near the man who had fired at me."

"Did you see him afterward?"

"Yes, in the jail, where he was when Johnson was taken from the cell."

"Was Jones disguised?"

"No, sir."

"How long have you known him?"

"A number of years."

"Where did he live, with reference to where Johnson lived?"

"He lived about half a mile from Johnson."

"Did you recognize any one else?"

"I recognized little Henry Kendall, W. C. Dean and Tom Johnson."

"Any one else?"

"Yes, Zeke Lewis."

"What became of John Jones when the crowd carried Johnson from the jail?"

"I didn't see him after the crowd left. They all went away together."

All the men mentioned by the sheriff as having been seen in the jail are under indictment together with Jones. Miss Rilee Bogan, a daughter of the sheriff, was the first witness. Her testimony, so far as it went, was the same as that of her father.

NEGROES FIRE ON CAMP AT NIGHT

Women and Children Were Sleeping in House Nearby, and Have Narrow Escape.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WILSON, N. C., July 15.—Last night at Grommet's Camp, on the Norfolk and Southern Railroad, unknown negroes opened fire on the camp and the occupants narrowly escaped death. The negroes slept in tents near a house where their wives and children live. Shots penetrated the walls of the house, breaking furniture and cutting through clothing. Occupants of the tents repelled with rifles, and nearly one hundred shots were fired, but in the darkness the whites could not locate the negroes. Sheriff Sharp has a posse on track of them, and it is believed the negroes will be caught. Feeling runs high.

Later, the older brother, Marshal Rowland, approached Black, and demanded an explanation of his abuse of the little brother, and a quarrel developed, in

KILLS HIS UNCLE IN PISTOL DUEL

John and Richard Wheelhouse Have Fatal Battle as Culmination of Family Feud.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PETERSBURG, VA., July 15.—John and his nephew, Richard Wheelhouse, had a pistol duel in Wells's bar-room at West and Washington Streets, about 10:30 to-night, and as a result the older man is dead, and Richard Wheelhouse is in the Petersburg Hospital desperately wounded, with little hopes for his life. For some time a feud has existed between these men and their families, the result of a marriage which was displeasing to the elder Wheelhouse. Just how the fight started it is not known, but soon after the men met in the bar, both opened fire with deadly aim, each discharging every chamber of his pistol. The men are both respectable and are regarded as hardworking, sober citizens. Richard Wheelhouse, the injured man, is under guard of the police.

BRYAN'S ROYAL GIFTS STOLEN.

Burglars in Daughter's House Take Keepsakes of World's Ruler. DENVER, July 15.—William J. Bryan is minus a large number of souvenirs and keepsakes, given him by kings, queens, emperors and prominent people from all parts of the world through the operations of burglars in the house of his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, at Thirteenth and Race Streets, this city. While many of the gifts were valuable intrinsically, they all possessed a greater value to Mr. Bryan because of associations. When he returned from his trip around the world he gave many of these souvenirs to his daughter for safe keeping. The Leavitt family left town, closing the house for the summer. Last night it was discovered that the house had been burglarized and many of the gifts stolen. There is no clue to the burglars.

STRAIN OF TRAVEL DRIVES HER INSANE

Woman Crazy by Journey of Three Thousand Miles Across Continent.

TRIES TO THROW CHILD OUT

Passengers Just in Time to Prevent Her from Dashing Baby from Window.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 15.—The strain of traveling almost 3,000 miles without a break in the journey, and with two small children, proved too much for Mrs. Hurt, a lady of about forty years of age, and before reaching Asheville yesterday she became violently insane.

Mrs. Hurt left Spokane, Wash., for the purpose of returning to her old home in Transylvania county, North Carolina. While the train was running through the mountains Mrs. Hurt showed signs of mental distress, and in a short time became a raving maniac, and attempted to throw the youngest of her two children, a baby of eleven months, from a window of the car, while the train was moving at rapid speed. The child was rescued by other passengers and Mrs. Hurt put under restraint until the train reached Asheville, and a message dispatched to Sheriff Hunter, who, with a deputy, met the train for the purpose of taking the woman in charge for her own protection and that of the children.

Mrs. Hurt refused to continue her journey to Transylvania county, and it was decided to take her to the county home. On being informed of the intention of the sheriff to take her and the children to the county home, Mrs. Hurt had another violent outbreak, and tearing the iron rail from one of the benches in the waiting-room, attacked the officers with fury. She was disarmed before she had an opportunity of doing any damage, and was then gently placed in a carriage and driven to the home, where she and the children are being properly cared for. Her case is a very sad one, and has aroused much sympathy.

Mrs. Hurt, in one of her lucid spells, stated that her husband had been killed in the West last December. He was found lying dead, with a bullet-hole in his head and a pistol lying near.
